Making Every Disabled Child Matter: events for parents

'Positive day – good to meet other parents from different areas.'

'An extremely useful day. I hope there will be further ones...'

'Very positive, helpful information. Lovely to meet like minded people. I feel quite uplifted. Hope I can help the campaign.'

These are just some of the comments from parents who attended the parent's days we have already held.

Thanks to the efforts of all our supporters, Every Disabled Child Matters has successfully campaigned for government to invest an additional £340 million in disabled children's services. Local authorities across England are also signing up to the campaign charter after campaigning by local parents.

Come and join us at the next parents meeting in your region. Find out:

- What's happening in the Every Disabled Child Matters campaign
- What this might mean for you
- How you can help the campaign locally
- What other parents have been doing and how they have been successful
- And meet other parents

This will be a relaxed event for parents. The campaign team and other speakers will update you on the campaign and provide you with useful information for you to use to campaign for the services you need in your area. We will provide a light lunch.
